INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS

Thank you for your interest regarding the advertised vacancy with Yarrabah Aboriginal Shire Council. Please read this guide carefully, as it includes information about our recruitment and selection process, and will assist you in preparing and submitting your job application.

It is a prerequisite for this position that applicants have the demonstrated ability to work with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and their leaders, respecting traditional culture, values and ways of doing business.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander candidates are highly encouraged to apply.

About Us

At Yarrabah Aboriginal Shire Council (YASC), we are more than just an organisation – we are a community-driven entity dedicated to serving the needs of the Yarrabah Community. As a statutory body under the Local Government Act 2009, we play a pivotal role in administering and governing the area. We provide over fifty (50) services to the community through its areas of administration, finance, information technology, municipal works and associated services, housing, and providing community services such as child care, social housing tenancy management, knowledge centre, banking and postal services, among others. We take pride in our rich history, our connection with the Gunggandji and Yidinji people, and our commitment to self-governance and community progress.

To find out more about us, please visit our website at www.yarrabah.qld.gov.au

Why Work With Us

Working with YASC offers you the opportunity to be part of a meaningful journey. Here, you won't just have a job – you'll have a purpose. As part of our team, you'll collaborate with a diverse group of individuals who share a common goal: to enhance the quality of life within the Yarrabah Community. Whether you're interested in administration, community engagement, infrastructure, or other areas, your efforts will directly contribute to the betterment of our community.

At Yarrabah Aboriginal Shire Council, we believe that together, we can create a brighter future. Join us in our mission to build a thriving, empowered, and culturally rich community. Work with us and be a part of something truly meaningful.

About the Job

When we advertise a position, we have already analysed it and developed a list of its duties and the selection criteria (the description of the ideal jobholder). This is the Job Description (JD) and is contained in this Job Application kit.

If you decide you can undertake the role, and you want to apply, the JD will help you write your application. What we want to know is how well you and your skills and abilities match the description of the ideal jobholder. (i.e. the selection criteria)

How to Apply

To embark on this exciting journey with us, submit your application. Show us why you're a perfect fit for our team and how your skills can make a difference in the Yarrabah Community.

Preparing Your Application

The job advertisement will clearly describe what you need to apply for this position. Your application should consist of the following details, explained in the next section:

1. Completed Job Application Cover Sheet (note the cover sheet is including in this kit)
2. Resume
3. Cover Letter
4. Statement addressing the Key Selection Criteria specified in the JD if this is requested in the advertisement

Checklist – Is Your Application Complete?

Please refer to the checklist below to ensure that you have included all requested information.

- ✓ Job Application Cover Sheet with your name, address and vacancy reference number. To make this easy we have included the form in this kit for you to use.
- ✓ A Cover Letter is a one-page document that provides additional information about your top skills and relevant experiences related to the job for which you are applying.

Closing Date and Time

Each job vacancy will show the closing date (date and time) for applications.

If you experience any difficulties in submitting your application please contact Human Resources for assistance on (07) 4056 9120 or hr@yarrabah.qld.gov.au before the vacancy closes.

The Selection Process

Local Government has a policy that people are selected for positions on the basis of Merit and equity. We select the best person for the position and all applicants are treated fairly and equally.

Selection is based on the assessment of each applicant in relation to the selection criteria identified in the job description of the advertised vacancy. The Job Description is contained in this information kit.

After your application has been submitted, the selection panel will assess this along with other applications received for the position, and invite competitive applicants for further assessment. This generally involves an interview, but you may also be asked to complete other tasks, such as a written exercise. Any questions asked at interview or tasks you are asked to complete will be relevant to the requirements of the position.

Your application

The selection panel, normally 3 people, is given the responsibility for selecting the competitive applicant and the first time that they may learn about you is from your application. The selection panel will use the information in your application to decide whether or not to interview you for the job.

Special Needs

If you are contacted for further assessment, please advise us if you need any special assistance to be able to attend (e.g. Building access or communication assistance) at the time the interview appointment is made so that we can make suitable arrangements.

Preparing for an Interview

We suggest that you prepare for the interview by reading the job description again and thinking about the sorts of questions you could expect to be asked and the answers you can give to demonstrate your suitability for the job.

The Interview

The interview, by the selection panel, is a way of finding out more about you and your ability to do the job that you have applied for.

During the Interview

During the interview you will be asked questions relevant to the job only.

Mostly you will be asked three types of questions -

- Behavioural questions asking for examples of how you have handled things in the past.
- Situational questions asking how you would handle a particular situation.
- Technical questions to demonstrate current knowledge and experience.

You may be asked to actually perform some part of the job - this is a work sample test. If you are asked to attend an interview you will be given information regarding the work sampling that will form part of the interview. The work sample testing, may include tests to assess aptitudes or abilities; or to test for managerial skills or abilities. If these types of tests are used, they will be run by qualified people and will have been chosen because they assist in identifying the best person for the job.

Reference Checks

The selection panel may contact your referees after the interview takes place. It is understood that where you have provided the contact details of a referee you have provided the selection panel with permission to contact them. The selection panel will not contact other reference sources without your permission.

Reaching a Decision

All applicants for jobs in the Yarrabah Aboriginal Shire Council will be notified of the result of the selection as soon as possible after the decision of the selection panel has been made and approved.

In the decision, the following are taken into account:

- the extent to which each applicant has abilities, aptitude, skills, qualifications, knowledge, experience and personal qualities relevant to the job, and
- if relevant, the way in which each applicant carried out any previous employment or occupational duties and potential for development.

If you are successful you may be asked to provide a copy of your birth certificate, evidence of your citizenship or resident status or undergo a security check.

National Police Certificate (if required)

If a National Police Certificate (NPC) is required for appointment to a vacancy, this is specified in the JD and/or the advertisement. In such case, applicants who are competitive will be asked by the selection panel to obtain a NPC following the interview.

Confidentiality

All of the information collected about applicants for jobs in the Yarrabah Aboriginal Shire Council is treated as confidential.

All information submitted by an applicant is subject to the Right to Information Act 2009. As a result, information submitted by all applicants may be released under the Act if requested.

We appreciate your attention to the job opening at Yarrabah Aboriginal Shire Council. This information will assist you in crafting your application for the position. We wish you the best, and we extend our gratitude for considering our job opportunity and investing your time in submitting your application.

Function Areas

The Yarrabah Aboriginal Shire Council provides over fifty (50) services to the community through its areas of administration, finance, information technology, municipal works and associated services, housing, and providing community services such as child care, social housing tenancy management, knowledge centre, banking and postal services, among others.

BACKGROUND

The Yarrabah Aboriginal Shire Council (YASC) is a statutory body under the Local Government Act 2009.

COMMUNITY PROFILE:

The Yarrabah Shire is an aboriginal community, which is situated on approximately 159 square kilometres of land, which runs east from False Cape around the Mission Bay area extending past Cape Grafton and Kings Point east of the Cairns inlet.

The Geographic's of Yarrabah in size is about 30 kilometres in length and 2.5 kilometres wide for most parts, but then it broadens to approximately 8 kilometres in the northern section.

Although Yarrabah is great in size, most of the area occupied is within the established township area located around the mission bay area with a population of 2,559 as per the 2016 census report. The population however is believed to be slightly more as residents tend to travel in and out of the community for extended periods for education, work and family reasons hence the reason to believe the population is greater than the report states. Members of the Yarrabah Local Disaster Management Group (LDMG) promote a population figure of closer to 4,500 permanent residents.

The area was originally occupied by 2 dominant groups the Gunggandji and Yidinji people, where they lived their day to day traditional lifestyle until it was established as an Anglican Mission in 1892. The Church appointed a tribal elder of the Gunggandji to be King for the whole church mission. King Menmuny was known to say 'this is the new way'

The first Aboriginal Council was established in the 1960's, however appointed persons principally acted as an advisory body.

Also a mark in time in the Yarrabah history is when the community received its Deed of Grant in Trust (DOGIT) land tenure in 1986 which paved the way for the community council of the day who were the trustee holders to then become self-governed under the Community Services (Aborigines) Act 1984. In its own right Yarrabah is now a Shire under the Local Government Act 2009.

In 2010 the original traditional owners the Gunggandji people received their determination for (as the locals know it) the top half of the Yarrabah boundary which was then followed by a second determination in 2013 for the bottom half which was a joint claim by the Gunggandji / Mundingalbay Yidinji clan groups.

The Yarrabah Council in partnership with the Traditional Owner Working Groups since these determinations have been working close together.
