12. PROHIBITED CONDUCT

Users must not send (or cause to be sent), upload, download, use, retrieve, or access any email or material on YASC's Computer Network that:

- is obscene, offensive or inappropriate. This includes text, images, sound or any other material, sent either in an email or in an attachment to an email, or through a link to a site (URL). For example, material of a sexual nature, indecent or pornographic material;
- causes (or could cause) insult, offence, intimidation or humiliation;

- is illegal, unlawful or inappropriate;
- affects the performance of, or causes damage to YASC's Computer System in any way; or
- gives the impression of or is representing, giving opinions or making statements on behalf of YASC without the express authority of YASC. Further, Users must not transmit or send YASC's documents or emails (in any format) to any external parties or organisations unless expressly authorised to do so.

Users must not use YASC's Computer Network:

- to violate copyright or other intellectual property rights. Computer software that is protected by copyright is not to be copied from, or into, or by using YASC's computing facilities, except as permitted by law or by contract with the owner of the copyright;

- to use YASC computer facilities for personal gain. For example, running a personal business.

Users must not use another User's Computer Network facilities (including passwords and usernames/login codes) for any reason without the express permission of the User or YASC.

13. DETAILS ON BLOCKING EMAIL OR INTERNET ACCESS

YASC reserves the right to prevent (or cause to be prevented) the delivery of an email sent to or from a User, or access to an internet website by a User, if the content of the email or the internet website is considered:

- obscene, offensive or inappropriate. This includes text, images, sound or any other material, sent either in an e-mail message or in an attachment to a message, or through a link to an internet website (URL). For example, material of a sexual nature, indecent or pornographic material;
- causes or may cause insult, offence, intimidation or humiliation;;
- defamatory or may incur liability or adversely impacts on the image or reputation of YASC. A defamatory message or material is a message or material that is insulting or lowers the reputation of a Person or a group of people;
- illegal, unlawful or inappropriate;
- to have the potential to affect the performance of, or cause damage to or overload YASC Computer Network, or internal or external communications in any way;
- to give the impression of or is representing, giving opinions or making statements on behalf of YASC without the express authority of YASC.

In the case that an email is prevented from being delivered to or from a User, the User will receive a prevented delivery notice. The notice will inform the User that the delivery of the email has been prevented. The notice will not be given if delivery is prevented in the belief that:

- the email was considered to be SPAM, or contain potentially malicious software; or
- the content of the email (or any attachment) would or might have resulted in an unauthorised interference with, damage to or operation of any program run or data stored on any of YASC's equipment; or
- the email (or any attachment) would be regarded by a reasonable Person as being, in all the circumstances, menacing, harassing or offensive.

YASC is not required to give a prevented delivery notice for any email messages sent by a User if YASC is not aware (and could not reasonably be expected to be aware) of the identity of the User who sent the e-mail or is not aware that the e-mail was sent by the User.

14. TYPE OF SURVEILLANCE IN YASC'S WORKPLACE

On a continuous and ongoing basis during the period of this policy, YASC will carry out Computer Surveillance of any User at such times of YASC's choosing and without further notice to any User.

Computer Surveillance occurs in relation to:

- storage volumes;
- internet sites - every web site visited is recorded including the time of access, volume downloaded and the duration of access;

- download volumes;
- suspected malicious code or viruses;
- emails - the content of all emails received, sent and stored on the Computer Network. (This also includes emails deleted from the Inbox); and
- computer hard drives - YASC may access any hard drive on the Computer Network.

YASC retains logs, backups and archives of computing activities, which it may audit. Such records are the property of YASC, are subject to State and Federal laws and may be used as evidence in legal proceedings, or in workplace investigations into suspected misconduct.

15. WHAT WILL THE COMPUTER SURVEILLANCE RECORDS BE USED FOR?

YASC may use and disclose the Computer Surveillance records where that use or disclosure is:

- for a purpose related to the employment of any employee or related to YASC's business activities; or
- use or disclosure to a law enforcement agency in connection with an offence; or
- use or disclosure in connection with legal proceedings; or
- use or disclosure reasonably believed to be necessary to avert an imminent threat of serious violence to any Person or substantial damage to property.

For example, use or disclosure of Computer Surveillance records can occur in circumstances of assault, suspected assault, theft or suspected theft of YASC's property (or that of a related corporation of YASC) or damage to YASC's equipment or facilities (or that of a related corporation of YASC).

16. STANDARDS IN RELATION TO BLOGS AND SITES NOT OPERATED BY YASC

YASC acknowledges that Users have the right to contribute content to public communications on websites not operated by YASC, such as social networking sites like Facebook, My Space, Snapchat, Friendster, Flickr, You Tube, Twitter, Yahoo Groups, Google Groups, Whirlpool and other similar sites. However, inappropriate use of such communications has the potential to cause damage to YASC, employees, clients and suppliers. For that reason, the following provisions apply to all Users:

- As it may not be possible for any user of an external site to conduct a search that will identify any blogged comments about YASC, Users must not publish any material which identifies themselves as being associated with YASC.
- Users must not publish any material that may expose YASC to any possible legal liability. Examples include, but are not limited to, defamation or discrimination proceedings.

17. WARNING

Apart from the potentially damaging effects a blog or social networking entry may have on YASC, inappropriate blogs on internal or external sites can also have adverse consequences for a User in terms of future career prospects, as the material remains widely and permanently accessible to other site users.

18. ENFORCEMENT

Users must comply with the requirements of this policy. Any breach of this policy may result in disciplinary action which may include termination of employment (or, for Persons other than employees, the termination or non-renewal of contractual arrangements).

Other disciplinary action that may be taken includes, but is not limited to, issuing a warning, suspension or disconnection of access to all or part of YASC's Computer Network whether permanently or on a temporary basis.

19. VARIATIONS

Council reserves the right to vary, replace or terminate this policy from time to time.
